- Writing Compelling Case Studies - Tues 23 April 10.00 -12 online

Sharing those stories can also help attract new volunteers to your organisation so that you can have even more of a positive impact.

But sometimes our case studies don't quite hit the spot. They can be too focused on the problems rather than the impact, or some too formal, or too modest.

In this workshop, we'll be working on telling better volunteer stories that will celebrate your existing volunteers and help attract new ones more effectively.

BOOK HERE

You'll come away from this session with one brilliant story, which will (with your consent) be shared on the Teignbridge Together Facebook page to help promote your organisation, as well as the skills to continue writing more compelling case studies in future.
